1) `/usr/share/koha/opac/cgi-bin/opac/opac-search.pl`

In line 234 there's a variable definition that is never used anywhere in the file

[ line 234/998 (23%), col 41/41 (100%), char 8043/41066 (19%) ]
head File                               ^Y Prev Page
Load the Type stuff without search categories for facets
my $itemtypes_nocategory = GetItemTypes;
```

2) I found that this variable must be used in Line 619 in `/usr/share/koha/opac/cgi-bin/opac/opac-search.pl`

as the image attached in comment 17 shows.

3) I've just created an item category in the demo site of ByWater (<http://intranet.bywatersolutions.com/>): KATRINTEST (Libro) and linked it to BOOK and BKDIS itemtypes.

	BOOK	Book	KATRINTEST
	BKDIS	Book Discussion	KATRINTEST

4) Now we can search “Libro” in OPAC (<http://catalog.bywatersolutions.com/>)

-  Hourly
-  Libro
-  Periodical

4) Look at the Item types refine menu: it shows item type codes instead of item type descriptions. It is solved applying a patch as shown in point 2 (comment 17)

The image shows a library catalog interface. On the left is a refine menu with the following sections:

- Moore, Charles B.
- Soper, Mark Edward.
- Thucydides.
- Show more
- Holding libraries
 - East Branch
 - Main Library
 - North Branch
 - South Branch
 - West Branch
- Item types
 - BKDIS
 - BOOK
- Locations
 - Adult non-fiction

On the right is a list of search results. At the top, there are controls: Select all, Clear all, and Select titles to: . The results list includes:
